

VIDEO: Introduction to Resource pools

Last Modified on May 8, 2020

Resource pools allow you to dynamically distribute bookings amongst a group of team members in the same department, location, or with any other shared characteristic. Each Resource pool can have its own method for distributing bookings. As bookings come in, you will be able to monitor how many bookings each team member receives, make real-time changes to booking distribution, and ensure an optimal distribution of bookings at any point in time.
