

Location of the Scheduling options section

Last Modified on Oct 11, 2022

Scheduling options are located on the Booking page by default. If you associate Event types with your Booking page, the Scheduling options section is located on the Event type. This allows you to standardize the settings for your scheduling scenarios. Learn more about associating Event types with Booking pages

In this article:

- Booking pages associated with Event types
- Booking pages not associated with Event types

Booking pages associated with Event types

For Booking pages associated with Event types (recommended), go to Booking pages in the bar on the left, select the relevant Event type, and go to the Scheduling options section (Figure 1).

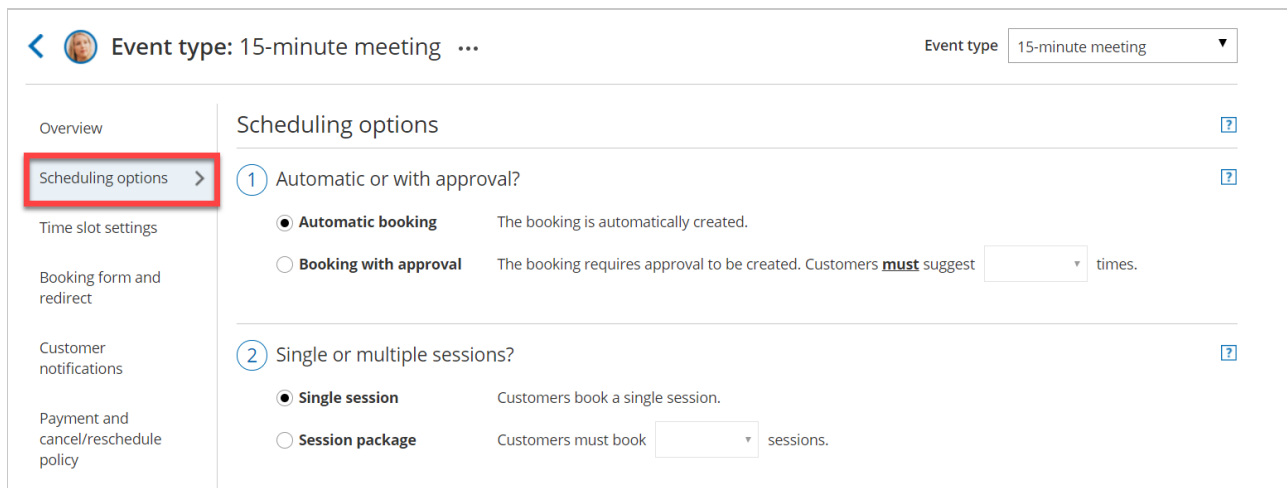

Figure 2: Scheduling options section when your Booking page is not associated with Event types

Booking pages not associated with Event types

For Booking pages not associated with Event types, go to Booking pages in the bar on the left, select the relevant Booking page, and go to the Scheduling options section (Figure 2).

The screenshot shows the 'Booking page: DanaFisher' interface. On the left is a navigation sidebar with items: Overview, Event types, Associated calendars, Recurring availability, Date-specific availability, Scheduling options (highlighted with a red box and a right-pointing arrow), and Time slot settings. The main content area is titled 'Scheduling options' and contains two sections:

- 1 Automatic or with approval? (with a help icon):
  - Automatic booking: The booking is automatically created.
  - Booking with approval: The booking requires approval to be created. Customers must suggest  times.
- 2 Single or multiple sessions? (with a help icon):
  - Single session: Customers book a single session.
  - Session package: Customers must book  sessions.

Figure 1: Scheduling options section when your Booking page has associated Event types